

Synthesis Commercial 95

The ultimate shadecloth for all types of tension structures

Three ways better.

Superior UV block, optimum shade factor and excellent overall cover.

Synthesis Commercial 95 knitted shadecloth is specially constructed for tension structures and shade awnings. It has been successfully used for almost two decades throughout the world in both small and large applications in countries including Australia where temperatures can range from below freezing to as much as 50°C (or 122°F).

Synthesis Commercial 95 boasts the inherent strength of knitted lock-stitch construction using a combination of tape and monofilament yarn to create a dimensionally stable material that is fray and tear resistant. It undergoes a heat stentering process that virtually eliminates any chance of shrinkage once installed.

Synthesis Commercial 95 is designed to provide UV block ranging from 91% to 98% creating safer outdoor daytime environments which can be utilised for longer periods.

Commercial 95 provides excellent levels of UV block and shade cover.
