Scope of Works

The international precision agriculture company required an outside area to entertain Clients at their headquarters. An area to the side of the building was outlined for use as an Al Fresco terrace but required shading from the summer sun.

The solution - a large single sail shade structure - and at 230 square metres she's a big one!!

The polyester mesh sail was designed and manufactured at the Adelaide factory before being installed over the new barbecue area by the Shadeform team. By creating a protected area to entertain clients, Topcon have created further valuable commercial space from a portion of land that was previously unused. Shadeform have the experience and ability to design, manufacture and project manage your commercial project from inception through to installation.
